

THERE IS A WIDE DIFFERENCE.

CHAS. D. UPCHURCH, the Radical candidate for Clerk of the Court of Wake, who has held that position so long that he thinks it belongs to him, told the people at Milburnie yesterday that there was no difference between him and Mr. THOMPSON, and no issue except that each one wanted the office.

Now Mr. UPCHURCH will not fool the people of Wake county by such misleading statements. Aside from the wide difference between him and Mr. THOMPSON of which there is no need to speak (the people of Wake know them both) there is a difference in their candidacy as wide as day is from night and as black is from white. And no man can deny it.

There is this wide difference: Mr. THOMPSON is the nominee of the thoughtful, earnest, upright host of Democrats, whose representatives made the best looking convention ever held in Wake county. Mr. UPCHURCH was nominated by—whom? A motley convention of men who, with perhaps half a dozen exceptions, are not competent either by character or knowledge or patriotism to select officers for the people of Wake county. Who composed that convention? Eighty negroes and twenty white men whose Republicanism is "office deep and dollar wide." Mr. UPCHURCH is the candidate of that gang, and any man who votes for him endorses and aids the crowd who nominated him. But, not only so, he was put in nomination before that Dolly Varden quilt convention by a negro from Holly Springs. The white man who votes for UPCHURCH will therefore say by his actions that he is willing for the Holly Springs negro to name the man for whom he is to vote. Are you that sort of a second-class white man?

And not only so, but UPCHURCH himself shows that there is an issue between him and Mr. THOMPSON when he accepts the Radical nomination. He makes a direct political issue; the negroes who support him, aided by him, draw the color line and make a direct race issue; and the white men of Wake county must meet it.

Again: UPCHURCH was a delegate to the National Radical Convention of 1884 and has been a Radical in every sense of that term, and as such has done more to strengthen that party than any man in the Fourth Congressional district. He is Radicalism incarnate, and represents Radicalism in this campaign. A vote for him is a vote for Radicalism.

JOHN W. THOMPSON is a Democrat of the strictest sect and the man who votes for him votes for the supremacy of the white race. A vote for UPCHURCH is a vote for a dyed in the wool Radical, and for the supremacy of negroes and traitors to their race and State.

These are the differences between Mr. THOMPSON and UPCHURCH. They are as far apart and as distinct as the color of the supporters which each will have.

REGISTER before the 25th of October.

THE WOMEN ARE ALL DEMOCRATS.

UPCHURCH said yesterday at Milburnie that he would certainly be elected, for "the ladies are for me." That reminds us of one of VANCE's jokes. He and SETTLE spoke one day to a white Democratic crowd, and at the conclusion of the speech a number of the young ladies kissed VANCE. The next day they spoke to the crowd and VANCE called on SETTLE to kiss his ladies.

On the night before UPCHURCH said this the negroes held a meeting and unanimously decided to support MEACHAM, UPCHURCH & Co.

At Lenoir last week CHARLIE McKESSES (a Radical) said that the women of North Carolina were all Democrats, and that's the reason the Radical party could not succeed. UPCHURCH slanders the ladies of Wake county when he says they are for him or other Radicals. The white women are all for Thompson, God bless 'em.

E. W. POU, JR., the brilliant young nominee for Solicitor, has invited Col. ARGO to meet him on the stump in this district. Instead of doing so in a manly way, Col. ARGO is bushwhacking in Wake county, following the county candidates and talking Alliance doctrine. The shades of consistency forbid! Col. ARGO—a Radical of Radicals, a Special Tax bond Radical, preaching Alliance doctrine, and trying to deceive the people! The people, the CHRONICLE is glad to know, have common sense and will not be hoodwinked by ARGO's smooth sophistry.

THE CHRONICLE has received a communication criticizing Rev. MEACHAM, the Radical candidate for the Senate. We must decline to print it. We have too many matters of interest for our readers to devote any space to the discussion of MEACHAM. We have yet to hear of a single respectable man in Wake county who will vote for him. We never bother with dead ducks.

THIS REGISTRATION books will close October 25th.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Mr. E. C. Beddingfield, Secretary of the State Alliance, will address the people at the following times and places: Sanford, Friday, Oct. 3d.

Winston-Salem, Saturday, Oct. 4th. The CHRONICLE hopes that every Alliance man in Moore and Forsyth counties, and every voter not in the Alliance will turn out and give the young and able speaker a large audience. They will be amply repaid.

Register to-day.

SPEAKING AT MILBURNIE.

The County Candidates Spoke Yesterday—The Negroes Drew the Color Line Sharply.

The county candidates spoke at Milburnie yesterday. Upchurch and Co. had a crowd of Raleigh negroes out there to help the Milburnie crowd "whoop it up." Some of them were drunk. It was the most insolent and impudent crowd ever seen in Wake county. They were emboldened by the recognition and impudence of white Radicals, and had the impudence to interrupt Buck Jones, who talked from the shoulder and gave Radicalism its just deserts.

It is shameful to see white men with good wives consorting with the corrupt and vicious crowd that assembled yesterday at Milburnie. No true man could have been present without becoming disgusted with the indecency of Radicalism.

"Sorry Pickup" Meacham's speech was dirtier and more vulgar, if possible, than any of his other harangues. His vulgar anecdotes "took" with the "lucky fellows of the baser sort," but there is not a respectable white man in the township who will vote for him.

Hoover (col.) spoke and drew the color line sharply and called upon every negro to stand true to the Radical (negro) party. They yelled and showed that they were solid for Radicalism.

In this condition, the white man who is not true to his color is a traitor and untrue to his race.

Wake calls upon every son to do his duty and stand firm by the party of the white man.

Who will be traitor?

THE FAIR GUESSING CARNIVAL.

An Enticing and Interesting Feature—With Plenty of Handsome Prizes as a Stimulus.

Various announcements have already been made of the great guessing carnival to be held at the State Fair. This feature is for the benefit of the Soldiers' Home which it is proposed to open in Raleigh some time this month. The carnival will have some interesting characteristics, and people who do some good guessing will win some handsome prizes.

The prizes will all be displayed at some good place in the fair buildings and grounds. To each prize will be attached some number which will be in a sealed envelope. The guesser looks at the prizes, and seeing one or more which strikes his fancy, will pay ten cents for the privilege of guessing at the number attached to the article. Guesses are unlimited so long as ten cents is paid for each guess, and one individual may guess for every prize if he chooses to pay for the privilege.

Following are some of the prize which may be guessed for:

- Set of pictures valued at $20.
- One boy's suit.
- A gent's saddle.
- Two fine chamber sets.
- A Jersey heifer.
- Pair of Poland Victoria pigs.
- Handsome steel engraving.
- Set of Dresden china.
- Two elegant arm rocking chairs.

HON. B. H. BUNN.

He Speaks at Pittsboro—Demolishes the Professor—and Captivates the People.

Hon. B. H. Bunn, spoke at Pittsboro on Tuesday of this week, and reports from there show that the people are delighted with him, and will give him the strongest support.

A letter received from a prominent citizen of Chatham county says:

"We never appreciated Capt. Bunn half so much as now. His speech was splendid. Everybody spoke of it in the highest praise. He did his cause, speech for himself, honor. A better being on any occasion could not have been made. He demolished the Professor, and we hope the joint canvas will continue, but we fear the 'Professor' will change his tactics."

The State Museum.

Some considerable improvements have recently been made in the State museum. The knocking out of a wall between the main building, facing the South and North extension, has added two large and very handsome rooms to the department. One of these new rooms will be devoted exclusively to a display of native woods and timbers and the products therefrom. The other room will be filled with all the varieties of marble and building stone found in the State. The main hall, as heretofore, will contain the mineral cabinets and miscellaneous articles, of which there is a very large and interesting collection.

Things are now being put in position under the new arrangement by Curator Harris, and he will soon have a most interesting exhibit for all visitors.

New Dental Office.

Dr. J. M. Ayer has fitted up a handsome and fully equipped dental office in the front rooms over the Norris Dry Goods store, and offers his professional services to the people of Raleigh, and the public generally. He is a graduate, with high honors, of the Dental Department of the University of Maryland, which is a school of international reputation and best standing, and is thoroughly conversant and practiced in all the latest and best methods of Dental Surgery. His office will be open for practice to-day.

Married.

Miss Josie S. Seeman and Mr. Edgar Thompson were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the residence of the bride, Rev. J. L. White officiating. It was a very quiet home wedding on account of sickness of the bride's mother, only a few of their most intimate friends being present. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on the O. & C. train for Wake Forest where they will spend several days with relatives of the groom.—Durham Sun.

Supreme Court.

The following business was transacted yesterday:

Hinton vs. Pritchard, from Hertford; argued by Grandy & Aylett for defendant.

Stokes vs. Railroad, from Chowan; submitted on brief.

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

There is some talk of choosing a new locality for the fair grounds.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held to-night.

Meteorological prophets predict that there will be a "let up" in the weather on and after to-day.

There will be a delightful musicale at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Briggs on Hillboro street to-night.

The bells of the tobacco warehouses clanged vigorously yesterday, and there was a lively time on, change.

This "soon" spell of weather is interfering with out door work, particularly the macadamizing operations on the streets.

Let everybody interested in the matter remember and attend the trades procession meeting in the CHRONICLE office to-night.

There was some kind of a project on hand a few months ago for remodeling and improving the Market house, but nothing has ever come of it.

Rev. M. L. Latta, colored, who has been North in the interest of a church and high school for his people, returned to the city yesterday. He reports a very successful trip.

Raleigh is paying more for cotton than any other market in the State. It always does. The prices are kept up to the highest notch here ALL THE TIME. Don't forget this fact, farmers.

It was announced from official sources some time ago that the Alliance would establish a $25,000 tobacco factory here and that the work would probably begin in September. So far nothing active is visible in this line.

The subscription to the fund for replacing tombstones at the graves of North Carolina soldiers in Fredericksburg cemetery is gradually growing. The people of this State will surely make the necessary response to the appeal in this matter.

A splendid specimen of copper ore is shown in the State museum, which came from the farm of Mr. W. B. Smith, near Forestville. The opportunities for mining copper on a paying schedule in and around Raleigh are immense. This matter will astonish anybody who will look into it.

At the meeting of the Y. M. D. C. last night several new names were enrolled and those present discussed the county canvass. The reports from the county indicate a rising tide of Democratic success. The outlook is encouraging, and every Democrat ought to be at his post.

Raleigh is a blessed place. A short time since a gentleman, who makes it a part of his business to look after the poor and needy of the city, was approached by another gentleman who offered him a barrel of bread for distribution, which offer was courteously declined, "for" said the first gentleman, "I do not know of a soul in the city in need of food, and I could not use your gift for the purposes for which it is tendered." The moral is, that Raleigh is one of the favored and blessed spots of Providence.

COMING AND GOING.

Some of The Folks You Know and Their Doings.

George J. J. McKay, of Wilmington, is registered at the Branson House.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. DeRossett, of Wilmington, are at Mrs. Beckwith's.

Mrs. Leo. D. Heatt who has been visiting here has returned to Durham.

Judge E. T. Boykin and Hon. W. L. Saunders have gone to Cleveland Springs to spend a few days.

Mr. Willie Allen Crawford and bride arrived last evening, and were given a pleasant reception at the home of the groom in this city.

Prof. T. Wood, instructor of vocal and instrumental music, will begin to conduct chorus singing at the meetings now in progress in the Baptist Tabernacle to-night. He was formerly professor and lecturer at the Ingham Coll. Institute, Le Roy, N. Y.; Glenwood Ladies Seminary, West Bradstreet, Vt.; For many years professor of music in the public schools of Albany, N. Y.; director and conductor of music in the Fourth Presbyterian Church during the ministerial administration of Rev. Henry Mandorville, D. D.; Rev. Samuel T. Seelye, D. D.; more recently from First Baptist Church, Troy, N. Y.; Rev. Geo. C. Baldwin, D. D., pastor. Everybody inclined to do so is invited to join the choruses to be conducted by him in the Tabernacle.

A Delightful Entertainment on the Tapis.

The young ladies of the Whatsoever Tea Circle of King's Daughters of the city, are now hard at work preparing an entertainment for Friday night of Fair week. An extremely ridiculous farce, in which Mr. James Anderson figures conspicuously, will be perhaps the feature of the evening. But a feast for eye and ear in Pantomime Tableau and song is also a part of the programme. The proceedings will be equally divided between the Hospital and the very poor of the city. Your patronage is earnestly solicited. The Hospital is in great need of funds owing to the fact that the Soldier's Home now engrosses public attention. Let us not lose this opportunity of securing for ourselves an evening's pleasant entertainment, while rendering assistance to the unfortunates to whom the winter brings many hardships.

The Prize Winners Last Night.

A larger crowd than ever was out to attend Tennyson and Dawson's Gift Carnival last night. The show is growing in favor.

The leading prizes were: A handsome parlor lamp, drawn by J. T. Ragan, Oxford; chamber set drawn by Amanda Dunston; dozen china cups and saucers, drawn by Daniel Partin.

The great cremation act by Prof. Morphet was unavoidably postponed last night and will be given this evening. A living subject will be burned to ashes.

THE Y. M. C. A.

A Suggestion to Revive it—And Provide a Home For it.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Raleigh has had a precarious existence. It seems to have always had something like a case of intermittent fever. At times it has been strong, healthy and vigorous. Then it had attacks of weakness and insanity. Just now it is suffering from an attack of the latter kind, and the attack is so severe that the association is almost dead. In fact there is nothing about it to indicate that it is living.

A gentleman said yesterday that he hoped to see the association revived, and believed that it would be. Then he made the following suggestion which is quite practicable.

If the association had a good home it would live and flourish. It has never yet had the right kind of a home in Raleigh. The Capital Club will soon vacate the Haywood mansion, corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets. That building would make a splendid home for the association. If some means could be devised by which it could be purchased and slightly remodelled it would be the very building in just the right locality for the home of the Y. M. C. A.

Now the question is can this be done, and if so, who will see that it is done? This city is surely in need of a Y. M. C. A. organization, and Raleigh ought to have the model one of the state. Has anybody any thing to say about it? If so, what?

Died.

The Globe announces with sorrow the death of Mr. C. H. Lowellen. At Oxford this morning at 6 o'clock, he departed this life. We all knew him here as "Uncle Lew," and everybody loved him.—Durham Globe.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Send for catalogue of the Raleigh Business College. Address PROF. J. E. MATHENY, Raleigh, N. C.

The Bee Hive has an ad. in this issue of the CHRONICLE that ought to be of interest to everybody. He not only wants to sell you, but will buy anything you have, from an old coffee pot to a set of parlor furniture. See his ad.

We desire to call special attention to the Douglas Shoe Company in this issue of the CHRONICLE. Messrs. Heller Bros. are sole agents for Raleigh, and have an immensely large fall and winter stock of these celebrated Shoes now on hand.

Fall trade has opened up briskly among our merchants, and especially so at Messrs. Whiting Bros. Some Saturdays it is a perfect jam in there at times. Messrs. Whiting Bros. are enterprising, and when they get hold of a good thing they use plenty of printer's ink to let the public know about it.

We Don't Pretend to Say

That we have more cloaks than all the rest of the merchants in the city combined, and we don't say that our cloaks are the very finest goods that were ever shown in Raleigh; nor do we say that we have the lowest priced goods you ever saw. What we do say, and you can see them when you come to the store, is that we have about 300 Ladies' and Misses' cloaks and wraps. You find all the latest styles in the lot, and we say that we sell these cloaks for as little money as any house in the United States can sell first-class goods. Now we know that you have seen so many statements similar to the above that you hardly know whether it is true or not. We have the goods for you to examine when you please. We shall sell a great many more than we now have; and that you may have the opportunity of selecting from the lot we call your attention to them at this time.

SWINDELL.

In order to test the comparative merits of the various newspaper advertising mediums, and at the same time benefit the readers thereof, we shall consider this advertisement for one dollar in payment toward purchase of $20 or more worth of goods, if cut out and presented at time of purchase, either in person or by mail. SWINDELL.

THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

New York, October 2.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company, in their cotton circular to-night say: "Manchester spinners are seeking to secure the better grades of the last crop remaining unsold in Liverpool, paying full prices without question, and, in addition, taking up the tenders upon the immediate position to obtain the best of this season's cotton. This legitimate demand gives decided strength to the markets abroad, while at home a general disposition to cover before the publication of the bureau report gives a quiet and firmer tone. American spinners have been free buyers in our market of staple cottons to-day, and the tenders upon October have been absorbed by local houses, with the intention of selecting better grades."

Receipts at the ports estimated at 34,000 bales, against 30,269 bales last week, and 33,956 bales last year.
